CAFETERIA CHANGES HANDS

The Charles Cafeteria on Washington avenue, immediately north of the First National bank, has changed its name but not its manner of serving the public to the things that are good to eat. It is now known as the Livingston Cafeteria and it is under the management of a new corporation.

The Charles Cafeteria company has been dissolved and a new one formed which is known as the Livingston Cafeteria company, the officers of the new company being: A. H. Livingston, president and secretary; B. F. Livingston, vice president and manager.

ORACLE--ISIS--GLOBE--JOIE

ENTIRE CHANGE OF PROGRAM TODAY IN ALL HOUSES.

The programs include some very interesting subjects viz: "KING COTTON." Scenes for this picture were taken in and around Rome, Ga., the vicinity that is noted for the finest grade of inland cotton grown in the world. This picture shows the development of the cotton from the planting to the loading for shipment. At the JOIE.

A RAMBLE THROUGH THE ISLE OF SUMATRA, one of the most picturesque travelogues we have shown. At the ISIS.

A pretty little silent drama that will be of interest to a number of Ogden people is entitled, "BRADFORD'S CLAIM," and is interesting from the fact that DON FULANO, the world's greatest trick horse and so well known in Ogden, was especially engaged for this picture. At the ORACLE.

We also have for this week several very interesting Vitagraph and Biograph pictures. ELEKTRA by the Vitagraph Co., is a Classic Marvel in the power of acting a Masterpiece in Moving Picture Art. At the ISIS.

Shakespeare wrote that "Life is as tedious as a twice-told tale vexing the dull ear of a drowsy man," which may be true in many instances, but the philosophical will contend that life is what we make it. The Biograph pictures a beautiful story this week of a father's selfish love in: "AS IT IS IN LIFE." At the GLOBE.

We have one dandy Biograph comedy with that cute little girl in it and two full reels of Essanay comedies, those side splitters for which they are noted.

If you really want to spend a PLEASANT hour, spend it with us.

UNION PACIFIC MAY BUILD HERE

Need of Roundhouse and Shops is Made Evident by Inability to Care for the Big Engines of the Mallet Type—Improvements Contemplated.

The Standard learns from an authentic source that, after the first of July, the beginning of the new railroad year, the Union Pacific management will inaugurate important improvements of a substantial nature at various points on the Utah division between Ogden and Rawlins. The heavy and increasing traffic over the Union Pacific main line makes it imperative that machine shop plants and round houses should be enlarged at each freight district terminal in order to handle the heavy traffic satisfactorily.

In accordance with the broad-gauged policy of the Harriman system General Manager Mohler has had these improvements under consideration during the last year and it is now quietly understood by railroad officials that authority for this work will be issued during the present season. Perhaps the most radical change will occur at Evanston, where new machines for the machine shops will be installed and where a new round house with a capacity for thirty-five stalls, will be erected. Similar changes on a smaller scale will take place at Rawlins, Green River and at Ogden.

In this city the present round-house capacity will be enlarged to accommodate the great Mallet engines now in freight service between Ogden and Evanston. These monster machines are ninety-five feet in length and the present turn tables and stalls are not large enough to care for this class of motive power. The engines of this make are now turned on the local "Y," and instead of being sent into the local round house and machine shop for repairs are kept out doors and repaired by machinists while standing on tracks adjacent to the shop plant. This is both inconvenient and expensive and as this expensive class of motive power will be largely increased in the future, accommodations must be arranged for the big machines.

It was hoped by local railroad men that the Union Pacific management would enlarge its present round-house in this city and establish large shops here, but this has been deferred for the time being, at least, and the Southern Pacific shops at Ogden will continue to take care of Union Pacific motive power here until the traffic requires the establishment of a big Union Pacific shops plant at Ogden.

SOCIETY

WELLS-TODD.

Miss Louise Todd, the genial and clever little bookkeeper of the J. S. Campbell company, and one of the prettiest and most popular young ladies of Ogden, was married Saturday afternoon, April 30, at the Episcopal church, Salt Lake City, Rev. Perkins performing the ceremony. Thomas Wells, the groom, is a well-known and capable young officer of the Union Pacific, acting as assistant chief clerk of the commissary department at Omaha. The couple left for that city on the Atlantic express No. 4 Saturday and will make their future home there.

J. B. CLUB GIVES FAREWELL PARTY.

Over 400 lovers of the terpsichorean art gathered at the Royal last Thursday evening to give a hearty "au revoir" to the Jolly Bachelors' club until the next season.

The occasion was without doubt the most successful one of the season, the carefully prepared program of twenty-one dances being keenly enjoyed by all.

A feature that greatly enhanced the pleasure of the evening was the pretty decorations of red, white and blue streamers which formed a canopy over the dancers, coming to a focus around a huge liberty bell suspended from the middle of the ceiling.

The punch booth and the pretty cozy corners, were also very popular features.

The usual good program of music was strengthened materially by the addition of several of the latest waltz compositions, all being played by a six-piece orchestra in most finished manner.

Messrs. Ecklund, Guther and Watson of the arrangement committee were congratulated on all sides for the success of the series just closed and promised to arrange a similar one next season.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

At the last meeting of the Children's Aid society, which is now an incorporated body, a membership soliciting committee was appointed. Among the ladies mentioned composing the committee were: Mrs. T. D. Ryan, Mrs. Geo. Craig, Mrs. Nettie most talented and popular young ladies in this city, and her absence will be a matter of regret to her many young friends. She is highly gifted as a musician, having a lyric soprano of remarkable sweetness and purity, and has occupied the position of director of the Evanston Catholic choir for the past year.

Mr. Smith is connected with the Union Pacific railroad as assistant superintendent, with headquarters at Green River, where Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside after their return from the west, where they expect to remain about five weeks.

STEVENS-WEST.

Prominent among the social events of last week was the wedding of Miss Ruby West and Mr. Walter Stevens, who were united in the bonds of holy matrimony at the Salt Lake temple last Wednesday.

On their return to this city they were met by a number of enthusiastic friends, who presented them with mementos of the occasion in the shape of rice and old shoes. They were then escorted to a waiting automobile and taken for a trip about the town by their captors.

In the evening a reception was given them at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Maggie West 2278 Madison avenue.

The home was prettily decorated with bridal wreath and carnations in a most artistic manner. The bride, attended by Miss Martha Critchlow as maid of honor, looked lovely in a tulle gown of liberty silk and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of white bride's roses.

The groom, with Mr. John Scowcroft acting as best man, looked handsome in conventional full dress. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening, and all present were delighted with a number of fine bass solos, sung in pleasing manner by the groom. Mr. John Scowcroft played the accompaniments and also rendered several appropriate selections on the piano.

A large number of useful and beautiful presents were received by the happy young couple, and on bidding them good night each of the seventy-six guests present wished them a long and happy journey on the sea of matrimony.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens will be at home after May 15 in their residence on Rose avenue.

CALEDONIANS.

The Ogden Caledonian society entertained their friends at a concert and dance in the Union Labor hall, Tuesday evening, April 26. The hall was crowded to the doors with Scotchmen and their friends, who enjoyed a most excellent program of Scotch songs and music. Those participating rendered their parts in a way that made the hearts of all Scotchmen beat with pride, and each number was heartily applauded and some were compelled to respond to an encore.

The following rendered well selected and much appreciated vocal numbers: Miss Annie Wilson, William Purdie and Mrs. Robert Moyes; Mrs. Agnes Warner, Robert Rendle; violin solo, William Kinley; song, Mrs. Wadsworth; Mrs. Orson Griffin, Mrs. Orson Payne, Chief William N. Purdie, Matt Poynton, Robert Anderson.

After the concert everybody enjoyed dancing real Scotch dances until midnight, when all joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne," voting the Caledonian society "rile" entertainers.

HALCYON CLUB.

Mrs. R. T. Hume entertained the members of the Halcyon Sewing society Saturday. An enjoyable afternoon was spent and a tempting repast was served.

Mrs. D. Sheehan is entertaining a large number of guests at luncheon at the Virginia this afternoon.
